This promotional counter is an ideal display for product demonstrations, promotions, and samples. A promotional counter, also known as a demonstration counter or promotional stand, makes a great addition to any trade show booth, presentation, or store display. Use this promotional counter in upscale stores to display products and offer out samples. A promotional counter also makes a great focal point in trade show booths and exhibits. By standing behind a promo counter, you are giving attendees a comfortable place to approach your exhibition. This promotional counter features a convenient bean-shaped design. Each promotion stand can easily be packed into `its` carrying case for transportation.

Application:

Ideal for product demonstrations, promotions, and samples.
